

Dr. Christine Petti Returns To National Television

Prominent Torrance Plastic Surgeon, Christine Petti, M.D., will make another special appearance on national television, this time on the Lifetime for Women Television Network in a program entitled “Speaking of Women’s Health.” The program will air on Saturday, August 21 at 11:00AM PST on Cox Cable Channel 41, Adelphia Cable Channel 27 and Time Warner Cable Channel 40. Please go to lifetimetv.com to verify air date and time as the network occasionally preempts scheduled programming.

The program tells the story of Cindy Guinasso, a 34-year-old Southern California “beach babe,” whose facial skin, after years of fun in the sun is damaged, and aged beyond her years. Dr. Petti expertly helped Cindy turn back the clock on aging by utilizing the latest in cosmetic and laser technologies.

Cindy desired to have her forehead furrows, deep smile lines, age spots, freckles and dark pigmentation, addressed quickly and non-surgically. Both she and her husband, Angelo, looked forward to her face without layers of concealer, foundation and powder.

Dr. Petti’s treatment plan included VISIA, a computer and ultraviolet light skin complexion analysis technology, to assess the damage to Cindy’s skin, followed by series of five Intense Pulsed Light Laser FotoFacials and microdermabrasions to even her skin tone, rid her face of spots and freckles, and to improve the health of her skin overall. Dr. Petti erased Cindy’s forehead furrows and crowsfeet with customized Botox injections and she softened her smile lines with Restylane, an injectable dermal filler.

After just six weeks, a younger-looking and more self-confident Cindy said, “I just love my young and radiant skin and can’t thank Dr. Petti enough. I am no longer a slave to makeup and I’ll never go out in the sun without sunscreen again!” she added.
